

Ladies/Gentlemen of congress:

I understand the fear of firearms that has been generated through heinous crimes in our past, but I have carefully researched the matter through historical analysis, and my research has born out the following facts:

1. 56.8% were either on or withdrawing from SSRIs (Serotonin Re-uptake Inhibitors) , (prescribed) or from mind altering drugs (Methamphetamine, Cocaine, Heroin, PCP, Marijuana, etc.)
  - Persons abusing controlled substances (drugs) are already not allowed to possess firearms.
  - Persons on or coming off of SSRIs are not denied access to firearms unless they have been declared a danger to themselves or others (mental health order).
2. 34.6% involved persons in a domestic disturbance ) usually in a relationship, and not a marriage). In these situations, stalking orders have been issued and ignored, or have been in-process and not in effect yet...
3. 46.8% involved persons with a history of mental health issues (having been committed or under psychiatric care. (and who cannot possess firearms at all)
4. 36.4% involved convicted felons, who are legally banned from possession (having contact) with firearms (or weapons).
5. 31.1% involved persons who cannot legally possess (have contact with), or purchase/own firearms because they are under the legal age to purchase/own/possess firearms .
  - under 18 years of age to possess/own a long gun (rifle or shotgun).
  - Under 21 years of age to possess/own a handgun.
6. 24.3% of these incidents occur in a “gun-free” zone (i.e.: school, government building, church or place of worship, on public transportation (bus, train plane), where persns are generally not allowed to be in possession of firearms.
7. 9.6% involved persons with allegiance to some form of religious jihad. (However, these attackers usually kill and injure much greater numbers of persons in a single attack, resulting in a much higher incidence of death/injury over-all.)
8. 6.0% of these incident are racially motivated.

I have attached the chart I have compiled to acquire these statistics, but it sometimes does not send in it original fashion.

Obviously the sum of these percentages are greater than the sample total, because some of these assailants cross over more than one category.

As is plain to see, nearly 100% of these crimes would be prevented if the laws currently in effect were enforced.

However, people enraged/effected by drugs or hate or greed, etc., do not obey the laws anyway, so until the laws we have can be enforced, new laws will only have the effect of preventing or hindering law abiding citizens from being able to defend themselves.

1. We need to assure that convicted felons do not acquire/possess firearms.
2. Perhaps if persons prescribed SSRIs need to be assessed and certified by the doctors that they are NOT a danger to themselves or others (with the doctors being liable for their actions).
3. Persons involved in Domestic disturbances perhaps need to be more closely monitored by doctors and police...
4. Our mental health histories (when involving dangers to self and others), need to be incorporated into the LEADS system.
5. Persons from foreign countries, according to gun dealers I have known, are able to purchase/possess firearms by simply showing two letters addressed to them at the same address --- even though they are not currently citizens of the United States --- even if they are currently in the USA unlawfully... (Often these persons are not allowed to legally possess firearms in their native country.)
6. Persons under the legal age for possession of firearms, should be required to be in the presence of a responsible adult outside their residence, and only allowed possession/use of a firearm within their residence, when certified by a responsible adult, and having been trained by a recognized firearms training authority (e.g.: NRA).
7. We need to establish a means of protecting our citizens in 'gun-free' zones (I have developed a realistic plan...)

I believe in a Constitution and its 2nd Amendment Rights guaranteed to law abiding citizens, and I fully understand the history and purpose of that right. History in EVERY country that has ever revoked it citizens' right to keep and bear arms, has eventually become a dictatorship, with no rights for it's citizens.

The 2nd Amendment Right is the Amendment that protects all of the other rights enumerated in our constitution.

Sincerely,

Prescription Drugs and their effects in causing/contributing to murders, suicides, and mass murders across the USA (and world)

These drugs (listed below) are not the only ones that can cause the opposite of their desired effect. Several anti-depressant medications are also restricted to adults, for the depression they inspire in kids rather than eliminate.

Ambien: depression, anxiety, aggression, agitation, confusion, unusual thoughts, hallucinations, memory problems, changes in personality, risk-taking behavior, decreased inhibitions, no fear of danger, or thoughts of suicide or hurting yourself; daytime drowsiness, dizziness, weakness, feeling "drugged" or light-headed.

Amitriptyline: You may have thoughts about suicide while taking an anti-depressant, especially if you are younger than 24 years old. Tell your doctor if you have worsening depression or suicidal thoughts during the first several weeks of treatment, or whenever your dose is changed.

Anafranil: mood or behavior changes, anxiety, panic attacks, trouble sleeping, or if you feel impulsive, irritable, agitated, hostile, aggressive, restless, hyperactive (mentally or physically), more depressed, or have thoughts about suicide or hurting yourself.

benzodiazapine. [ben"zo-di-az'ě-pēn]

...any of a group of drugs having a common molecular structure and similar pharmacological activities, including anti-anxiety, muscle relaxing, and sedative and hypnotic effects. The group includes the sedative-hypnotics chlordiazepoxide \(librium\), clorazepate \(tranxene\), diazepam \(valium\), flurazepam \(dalmane\), and oxazepam \(serax\), which are used as antianxiety agents; and clonazepam \(klonopin\), an anticonvulsant.

Effexor (anti-depressant): The Medical Accountability Network, a private nonprofit focused on medical ethics issues, publicly criticized Wyeth, saying Effexor's "homicidal ideation" risk wasn't well-publicized and that Wyeth failed to send letters to doctors or issue warning labels announcing the change. And what exactly does "rare" mean in the phrase "rare adverse events?" The FDA defines it as occurring in less than one in 1,000 people. But since that same year 19.2 million prescriptions for Effexor were filled in the U.S., statistically that means thousands of Americans might experience "homicidal ideation" - murderous thoughts - as a result of taking just this one brand of anti-depressant drug. Effexor is Wyeth's best-selling drug, by the way, which in one recent year brought in over $3 billion in sales, accounting for almost a fifth of the company's annual revenues.

Fanapt: restlessness, aggression, and delusion have been reported frequently. Hostility, decreased libido, paranoia, anorgasmia, confusional state, mania, catatonia, mood swings, panic attack, obsessive compulsive disorder, bulimia nervosa, delirium, polydipsia psychogenic, impulse-control disorder, and major depression have been reported infrequently. Fanapt was dropped by its first producer, picked up by another, initially rejected by the FDA, then later picked up and mass produced. The adverse side-effect is said to be "infrequent," but still it exists, and can't be ignored. The reaction invoked by the drug in some people is reminiscent of the Jeffrey R. MacDonald case, where a Green Beret slaughtered his entire family and then fabricated a story about a marauding troop of "hopped up hippies." MacDonald though, had Eskatrol in his system, a weight-loss amphetamine that's since been banned in part for its side effects of psychotic behavior and aggression.

Lexipro: mood or behavior changes, anxiety, panic attacks, trouble sleeping, or if you feel impulsive, irritable, agitated, hostile, aggressive, restless, hyperactive (mentally or physically), more depressed, or have thoughts about suicide or hurting yourself.

Lithium: hallucinations, seizure (blackout or convulsions.)

Luvox: mood or behavior changes, anxiety, panic attacks, trouble sleeping, or if you feel impulsive, irritable, agitated, hostile, aggressive, restless, hyperactive (mentally or physically), more depressed, or have thoughts about suicide or hurting yourself.

Mirtazapine: anxiety, panic attacks, trouble sleeping, or if you feel impulsive, irritable, agitated, hostile, aggressive, restless, hyperactive (mentally or physically), more depressed, or have thoughts about suicide or hurting yourself.

Paxil: mood or behavior changes, anxiety, panic attacks, trouble sleeping, or if you feel impulsive, irritable, agitated, hostile, aggressive, restless, hyperactive (mentally or physically), more depressed, or have thoughts about suicide or hurting yourself, agitation, hallucinations, fever, fast heart rate, overactive reflexes, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, feeling unsteady, loss of coordination, fainting, headache, trouble concentrating, memory problems, weakness, confusion, hallucinations, fainting, seizure, shallow breathing or breathing that stops.

Prozac: headache, trouble concentrating, memory problems, weakness, confusion, hallucinations, fainting, seizure, shallow breathing or breathing that stops.

Ritalin: aggression, restlessness, hallucinations, unusual behavior, or motor tics (muscle twitches); dangerously high blood pressure (severe headache, blurred vision, buzzing in your ears, anxiety, confusion, chest pain, shortness of breath, uneven heartbeats, seizure.)

Suboxone is a habit-forming drug that has been connected with sudden outbursts of aggression.

Thorazine: unusual thoughts or behavior; feeling restless, jittery, or agitated.

Trazodone: mood or behavior changes, anxiety, panic attacks, trouble sleeping, or if you feel impulsive, irritable, agitated, hostile, aggressive, restless, hyperactive (mentally or physically), more depressed, or have thoughts about suicide or hurting yourself; extreme mood swings, restlessness, or sleep problems; agitation, hallucinations, fast heart rate, overactive reflexes, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, loss of coordination.

Temazepam: confusion, slurred speech, unusual thoughts or behavior; hallucinations, agitation, aggression; thoughts of suicide or hurting yourself.

Valium: (diazepam): confusion, hallucinations, unusual thoughts or behavior; unusual risk-taking behavior, decreased inhibitions, no fear of danger; depressed mood, thoughts of suicide or hurting yourself; hyperactivity, agitation, aggression, hostility.

Venlafaxine: (the active ingredient contained in Effexor): agitation, hallucinations, fever, fast heart rate, overactive reflexes, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, loss of coordination.

Vicodin: confusion, fear, unusual thoughts or behavior; anxiety, dizziness, drowsiness; headache, mood changes.

Wellbutrin: mood or behavior changes, anxiety, panic attacks, trouble sleeping, or if you feel impulsive, irritable, agitated, hostile, aggressive, restless, hyperactive (mentally or physically), more depressed, or have thoughts about suicide or hurting yourself.

Xanax: depressed mood, thoughts of suicide or hurting yourself, unusual risk-taking behavior, decreased inhibitions, no fear of danger; confusion, hyperactivity, agitation, hostility, hallucinations.

Zoloft: mood or behavior changes, anxiety, panic attacks, trouble sleeping, or if you feel impulsive, irritable, agitated, hostile, aggressive, restless, hyperactive (mentally or physically), more depressed, or have thoughts about suicide or hurting yourself.

Below I have color-coded the ‘contributing factors’ in the murders brief biographies listed below.

- Michael Joe Hood shot three in 2010, not 2007. This was not a mass shooting (the FBI definition of a mass shooting is four or more), and with his documented history of mental illness, Hood should not have had a concealed carry permit, and there is some dispute over whether he did. He did not use a concealed weapon.
- Jason Hamilton had a previous domestic violence conviction, and should not have been able to own any firearms. His attack did not involve concealed weapons. We can find no credible confirmation at all that Hamilton had title II weapons or a concealed carry permit, as VPC claims via a singular erroneous news report.
- Terrance Hough, a Cleveland firefighter who shot five people for setting off fireworks in the street, did not use a concealed weapon.
- Guillermo Zarabozo really did use a concealed weapon to murder four people in an act of piracy on the high seas. He is the first person on this list with a concealed carry permit who used a concealed weapon to commit mass murder.
- Charles Johnson shot three people. This was not a mass shooting.
- Aaron Jackson murdered his wife and two children before committing suicide. He did not use a concealed weapon.
- Troy Brake shot three people to death, and beat a fourth victim to death. This again, was not a mass shooting by FBI standards, although it was a mass killing.
- Frank Garcia did not have a concealed carry permit at all. He had a handgun ownership permit only.
- Michael McLendon carried out a horrific attack that killed ten people before he took his own life. None of his victims was shot by a handgun, concealed or otherwise.
- Jiverly Wong was a concealed carry permit holder who used concealed weapons to commit a mass shooting. He is the second person on this list with a concealed carry permit who used a concealed weapon to commit mass murder.
- Richard Poplowski ambushed police officers who came to his home with a rifle. He did not use a concealed weapon in his firefight with police.
- George Sodini is the third person on this list with a concealed carry permit who used concealed weapons to commit mass murder.
- Paul Michael Merhige is the fourth person on this list with a concealed carry permit who used concealed weapons to commit mass murder.
- William Maxwell murdered his wife and two children with a handgun before committing suicide. The handgun was not concealed, and his concealed carry permit was irrelevant.
- Justin Matern murdered his estranged wife and children before committing suicide. He did have a concealed handgun permit, but it was irrelevant to the crimes.
- Christopher Speight did kill eight people and injure several more. With a rifle. That he had a concealed carry permit was irrelevant to the crimes he committed.

- Gerardo Regalado “came in running” with handgun when he shot seven women in Hialeah, Florida. His handgun was not concealed prior to the attack.
- Omar Thornton was fired for theft, then returned to the job and shot eight co-workers to death before taking his life. He is the fifth person on this list with a concealed carry permit who used concealed weapons to commit mass murder.
- I cannot find any evidence that Tan Do had a concealed carry permit.
- Ian Stawiki is the sixth person on this list with a concealed carry permit who used concealed weapons to commit mass murder.
- Paul Clifford Moore shot three people; again, this is not a mass killing by FBI standards. He retrieved a weapon from inside his own home and used it inside his own home against the victims. Concealed carry played no part in the murders.
- Kevin Cleeves shot three people... once again, the VPC is adding crimes that are not mass killings. Because of a prior domestic violence conviction in Arizona, Cleeves was not eligible to possess or use a firearm, much less have a concealed carry permit.
- Andrew Engeldinger did NOT have a concealed carry permit when he committed mass murder in Minneapolis. Permit applications were found at his home, but he had not applied.
- Ferdarius Shine did not commit a mass shooting, killing three people. He opened fire in his own home, so a concealed carry permit was irrelevant, and there is some dispute as to whether or not he actually had a permit.
- Dennis Clark murdered four people with a shotgun. Again, concealed carry was not in any way relevant to the crime.
- Pedro Vargas began his attack in his apartment by committing arson, and then started shooting. Again, concealed carry was not relevant to his crimes.
- Aaron Alexis, the Washington Navy Yard killer, used a shotgun in the commission of his crimes. Concealed carry was not relevant.
- Kenneth Allen Keith killed three (again, less than the FBI minimal definition of a mass shooting... during a robbery attempt.
- Craig Hicks killed three Muslims in Chapel Hill, NC. This was not a mass shooting, and concealed carry was not relevant as Hick ambushed the family in their home.
- Christopher Ingraham, an anti-gun propagandist apparently hired for that purpose by the Washington Post, used a propaganda report by the rabidly anti-gun Violence Policy Center (VPC) to assert concealed carriers were responsible for “at least” mass murders.

- Of those 29 alleged mass murders carried out by concealed carry permit holders, precisely six mass murders (using the accepted FBI definition of a mass murder, which is four or more victims) were carried out by concealed carry permit holders using concealed handguns.
- Seven of the claimed “29 mass shootings” were not mass shootings.
- Between four and eight of the “concealed carry permit holders” did not have concealed carry permits.
- The Violence Policy Center has a long and well-documented history of “reports” that are nothing more or less than propaganda.
- Any reporter that uses such overt and unverified propaganda should be terminated, along with their editors.

Barker, Diana 71, accidentally shot by .38 derringer from concealed carry permit holder, who dropped the gun out of his pocket, causing the discharge. January 13, 2011. KINGWOOD, Texas -- A Kingwood man who accidentally shot an elderly woman when his gun dropped from his coat pocket says he's totally distraught after the incident. It happened as the man (who did not want to be identified) was having dinner on Jan. 13 at Raffa's in the 1600 block of W. Lake Houston Pkwy. He said he had on a jacket that he hadn't worn in a year. He said he didn't know it had his .38 caliber derringer gun in its pocket. The gun ended up falling out of his pocket. "Everybody looked around. There was a big explosion in the restaurant. No one knew what it was. Then, the person who I was dining with saw the derringer under my seat," he said. The explosion was his gun going off as it hit the floor. Police said a bullet hit another diner, Diana Barker, in the buttocks and continued through her hip, into her abdomen and ended at the right side of her chest. Paramedics rushed the 71-year-old grandmother to Ben Taub Hospital. "I was almost in shock. Oh my God. That's my gun," the Kingwood man said he uttered to himself after the gun went off. "I don't even know what to say. I'm sorry the whole thing happened. If I knew there was a gun in the jacket, I would not have gone in the restaurant with it." Twelve days after the accidental shooting, Barker is still in the hospital. Her sons say their mother is making slow, steady progress, but the road to recovery has been tough. The bullet is still lodged inside of her and she can feel it. Once she's able to leave the hospital she's going to need weeks of rehabilitation. "I have been wondering how she is doing. I'm totally distraught over the whole thing. I didn't sleep the whole night," said the Kingwood man. "My prayers are with the family; and I'm hoping she fully recovers." The Kingwood man has a concealed handgun license. According to management at Raffa's, if you have a concealed handgun license, you can bring a gun into the restaurant. At this point, the man whose gun went off is not facing criminal charges. That's why 11 News is not identifying him at this time. However, on Tuesday, sources close to the investigation said the case is not closed. He could still face criminal charges and the case could go before a grand jury. The gun owner told 11 News he knows that is a possibility.

Calderon, Richard, 24: March 4, 2010 4:01:52 PM PST HOUSTON --A driver opened fire on a car carrying a mother and daughter Wednesday night in far southwest Houston, hitting a 13-year-old girl inside. Police say it all stemmed from a hit-and-run wreck. It started around 8:30pm as Alexis Waley, 13, and her mother were leaving a high school basketball game in a Nissan Altima. Police say they were at a stop sign on Westhampton at White Heather when they were struck by the driver of a Cadillac.

Police say that driver, identified as Richard Calderon, 24, drove off, and as he did, Waley's mother followed him to get a description and license plate number.

They were able to get that information, but police believe somewhere along Buffalo Speedway, the situation took a violent turn. Authorities say Calderon opened fire on the teen and her mother, striking Alexis in the back of the head. She was taken to Memorial Hermann Hospital, where her grandfather told us she passed away Thursday afternoon.

"I heard a pop and then I didn't think nothing about until the neighbors were upset, really upset," said witness Tom Johnson. "The fire department came and then pulled over there on Westhampton Street and they took the girl out the car." Calderon was taken into custody a short time later and admitted to his involvement in the shooting. Police have since charged Calderon with murder.

Waley's mother was not injured in this incident.

Thursday was an extremely difficult and emotional day at Johnston Middle School. Waley was involved in so many different activities at school, was very popular and had a lot of friends. Everyone there is praying and thinking of her family.

At 13, Alexis Waley had a yearning to belong. She played volleyball, softball, and is a member of her middle school's orchestra. Relatives described Waley as outgoing and loving.

"She has a real sweet personality. She was real friendly to everybody," said her grandfather Charles Randle.

"They're emotional. It's a very emotional time for them and it was emotional for us to give that news," said Johnston Middle School Principal Dave Wheat.

As crisis counselors comfort grieving students, Waley's relatives are demanding justice.

"I would like to see that he gets what's coming to him and get all the punishment that's due to him," said Randle.

More than 100 students at the school spent time with grief counselors on Thursday.

Michael McLendon, 38: Kinston, Ala; killed at least 11 people Tuesday afternoon in southern Alabama The suspect, identified early Wednesday morning as Michael McLendon of Kinston, Ala., took his own life after leaving a trail of bloodshed across two towns. Jim Stromenger of the Samson, Ala., Police Department said the shootings occurred in at least four separate locations in two towns. No motive is known at this time, he said.

Coffee County coroner Robert Preachers told The Associated Press that the suspect started his spree by burning down his mother's house, where officials found her body. Preachers confirmed that Lisa McLendon had been shot, along with the family dogs.

By late afternoon the shooter had moved on to Samson, where he went to a private home and killed at least five people -- four adults and a child.

Among the dead were the suspect's grandparents, aunt and uncle, confirmed Preachers.

McLendon went on to kill two more people in two separate houses.

"He was just driving down the street shooting at people sitting on their porches," State Sen. Harri Anne Smith, R-Slocomb, told the Dothan Eagle newspaper. "A family was just sitting on the porch and they were shot."

Geneva County coroner Max Motley said he was called to the Big Little Store on West Main Street in Samson, where he found the body of a woman between the gas pump and the front door, the Eagle's Web site reported. She was found face up with at least one fatal gunshot wound.

Samson contractor Greg McCullough said he was pumping gas at the station when the gunman opened fire, wounding him in the shoulder and arm with bullet fragments that struck his truck and the pump.

"I first thought it was somebody playing," he said, explaining that the gunman roared into the parking lot and slammed on his brakes. Then he saw the rifle. He said the gunman fired and the rifle appeared to jam, then he "went back to firing." Then he drove off, according to the AP.

After he fired at a state trooper, police pursued the shooter to Reliable Metal Products, where he fired an estimated 30 rounds. One of the bullets hit the Geneva police chief, who was saved by his bulletproof vest, the Alabama Safety Department said in a statement.

The gunman then went into the plant and shot himself, the AP reported.

The gunman had worked at Reliable Metal, said State Rep. Warren Beck, a Republican whose district includes Geneva.

"My secretary heard gunfire everywhere," he said. "This is one of the most tragic events ever in Geneva County."

State Sen. Harri Anne Smith, R-Slocomb, told the AP some of those killed in Samson were sitting outside.

"He was just driving down the street shooting at people sitting on their porches," she said. "A family was just sitting on the porch, and they were shot."

Reliable Metal Products makes grills and vents for heating and AC systems, mainly for hotels. A call to a person who answered the phone at the plant said no one could talk about the shooting, according to the AP.

The towns of Geneva and Samson are roughly 30 miles south of Fort Rucker, near the Florida border in southeast Alabama. Geneva's population is about 4,400 and Samson's, 2,000.

Geneva County deputies rammed the suspect's Mitsubishi Eclipse in front of Alabama Title Loans on Highway 52, near Wal-Mart, according to the Eagle.

Senator Thatched and committee member:

I have been reviewing my statistics regarding Mass Murders and the associated chart I presented. Since the Hearing on April 4, 2019, and have determined I had omitted several examples of 'Gun Free Zones' in my initial study, and have corrected about half those case studies. (My original concern was the number of mass murders committed by persons under the influence of Serotonin Reuptake Inhibitors (SSRIs), and other anti-depressants, so i inadvertently din't include churches, hospitals or workplace murders in the Gun Free Zone statistics.)

On review of about half of my case studies, the percentage of Mass Murders in 'Gun Free Zones' appears to be a consistent 44.0%, with SSRIs and controlled drugs, Mental Health, and Domestic Disturbances compiling the greatest percentages of assailants.

I also reviewed the testimony at the hearing and agree with many of those opposing SB 978 and Amendment, and have attached a response by me re: that hearing.

I do hope and pray that this bill and Amendment are 'washed out', as they would have little or no effect on deterring criminals, but would have a tremendously negative effect on law abiding citizens in their right and ability to defend themselves or their animals.

This bill would also negate the potential effect of CCL holders in deterring crime in various institutions and localities.

Overview of April 2, 2019 Hearing re: SB 978

1. Requirement for guns to be locked up, with ammo secured in another locked safe:

Response time to acquire a firearm in an emergency (predator animals, or human attackers) is critical.

- Police response time is generally 7 minutes or more in the city, and can be hours in the rural areas.
- A violent encounter with a predator generally takes only 30 seconds to two minutes – unlocking a gun cabinet and then unlocking an ammo cabinet, loading the firearm, and then responding to the emergency is generally too late.
- A violent human intruder encounter in the home generally allows for only seconds to respond. Even unlocking only one cabinet would take too long.
  - Most violent assaults take only 3 minutes, while police response will be 7 minutes to several hours.
  - The firearm must be accessible within seconds, and often the display of it is enough to deter the assailant.
- I personally have three daughters, and each one of them has been stalked, threatened, and even attacked by ex-husbands or ex-boyfriends.
  - Daughter A was stalked for weeks by someone making threatening calls and prowling around the residence.
    - The police would come and make a brief look around the residence, and then leave.
    - A trained dog helped, but didn't stop the stalking.
    - In between work schedules, I finally came to bodyguard her myself. One night after the police had come and looked and left; I observed for a while, and went outside, where I heard the stalker in the brush near the building. I ordered him/her out of the brush, and warned that I was armed and an Officer --- He exited uphill about 200 ft through the brush, started a large motorcycle and left --- never to return or threaten again.
    - The police apparently saw these threats and stalking as either unfounded, or a prank-like matter, and it took me personally (plain clothes from another jurisdiction) to ultimately bring this situation to a halt.
  - Daughter B had a drunken roommate put a rifle to her head, threaten to kill her, and then pulled the trigger.
    - The rifle chamber was empty (magazine loaded) and it did not fire, but he intended to fire it telling her he was going to kill her.
    - Her shepherd dog attacked the assailant, and allowed her time to run out the door and several blocks away, where she called me (hundreds of miles away, and asked what she should do.
    - She called the police, who responded about 20-30 minutes after he tried to shoot her. After a search, found the assailant and arrested him.

- The rifle he possessed was illegal: He was a felon and could not own a weapon, and the rifle was not registered/transferred on legal paperwork.
  - The police response was delayed initially because she ran out of the house without her cell phone or keys, and had to use a neighbors phone.
  - After being called, the police responded 20-30 minutes after she would have been dead.
- Daughter C Had been dating a fellow for about 6 months to a year, and decided to end the relationship because of his selfish, controlling behavior.
  - He decided to threaten and stalk her for the next several weeks.
  - Police were called and counselled him, but he was not deterred, and told her, "If he couldn't have her, than no one would..."
  - I had trained her in her childhood (now in her 40s) in the use of firearms, so I gave her a refresher course in the use of handguns and a shotgun, and provided her the same and ammunition for practice and defense.
  - She sought a stalking order, but was delayed on her first request.
  - On the second request, it was further delayed, and she initiated an application for a Concealed Carry License, explaining and showing in the paperwork her qualifications and training with firearms.
  - The police contacted him again, after another threat and stalk near her work (a Gun Free Zone), and explained that her dad was a firearms training instructor, she had a gun, and was applying for a permit.
  - She also moved, and he has left her alone since.
  - The police did not have an effect on the stalker for about 2 months, until after she had been trained and provided firearms and ammo.
- When our daughters were small and playing in the field, a car stopped at the bus stop (150 yards South), fired one shot into the field, and then sped off spinning tires and fish-tailing in the gravel past our house and on up the road, firing one more shot as the car went speeding by past our house.
  - I had armed myself, when the girls came screaming and running to the house, and my wife told me to get my gun.
  - I found two empty .22 LR casing at the bus stop and about 50 feet up the road.
  - I reported the incident to the sheriff, who took the report.
  - I had been reporting drug dealers in the area, and believe the gunfire was a warning to quit reporting their drug deals.
    - I saw that car drive by several times in weeks/months to come, but it always slowed down, and never fired shots again
- On our small farm, on many occasions per year, I encounter predators of various sorts attacking our farm animals. Over the 38 years we have lived in rural Oregon, I have learned to keep a gun handy at all times, and to never go to the barn or loafing shed without a one.

- On several occasions, I have been unarmed and encountered opossums, raccoons, coyote, fox, or cougar attacking or near our animals.
- On a few occasions, I have encountered humans. Once, stampeding our horses, and when I (unarmed) confronted them, they threatened and challenged me to fight the three of them (large, drug and belligerent 20 year olds). Before the age of cell phones, I was unable to call police, but armed myself and they left to drink more beer and then they sent a step-granddaughter of mine to re-issue their challenge to fight --- and bring a gun...(I ignored the challenge.)

2. Gun Free Zones: are an invitation to violent offenders. They know they are not likely to be confronted by anyone capable of defending against them.
  - A better plan would be to require vulnerable buildings and areas to have armed security on duty whenever students/clients are present. These can be either uniformed or plain clothes, understanding that one uniformed officer often becomes the first target.
  - Allowing clients, staff, employees to carry concealed (with proper training) would provide 'plain clothes' security and in numbers...
3. Age of purchase: seems an unequal application of the law, whereas a person 18-21 can serve in the military to defend our country in war conditions, and be injured or killed on duty, but not allowed to defend themselves or their families --- because they are too young to purchase/possess a firearm when home.
  - Ironically, if a soldier were to return home (USA) from battle, and have become disabled in combat, under this proposed amendment to SB 978, that disabled soldier would now not only be physically unable to run or fight, would additionally be excluded from being able to use a weapon to defend himself or family.
4. Restricting gun rights (i.e.: can't loan firearm to son/grandson daughter or granddaughter) for the purpose for the purpose of providing meat for the family or protecting livestock, or protecting family --- does not seem to logically allow for the greater safety of our citizens.
  - Most stolen guns that have been used in Mass Murders, were stolen after the parent(s) were killed by the assailant, who then went on to commit other murders.
  - Other stolen guns from home not occupied, generally involve a 'Breaking and Enter' by the thief. Breaking into most locked gun cabinets or safes is a simple matter for an accomplished thief, who has already broke and entered -- (Crow bars, cutting torch, hammer and chisel, etc.)
5. Concealed Carry License Allowing for restrictions regarding where and when a city, town, school, or other entity would have a right to a not recognize a Concealed Carry License is counter-intuitive. CCL holders often stop violent crimes, as has been shown the case repeatedly through NRA 'The Armed Citizen' reports. Most experts believe that the more law-abiding, trained citizens carrying weapons (concealed), the more leery criminals are regarding who and where to attack.

- Montana is an open carry state, and has a much lower rate of armed or violent crimes.
- Switzerland is the country where each household is required to have a firearm and be trained in its use, where violent crime is nearly non-existent.
- In the alternative, Chicago and New York (and L./A.) have the most restrictive gun measures/laws in the nation, and also the highest rates of violent crime.

Such laws as are proposed in this Amendment to SB 978, won't have an effect on the criminals --- because they are already breaking the law when they commence their crime. What these proposals would do is make honest, law-abiding citizens either criminals (for violating these laws) or victims (for obeying them).

Sincerely,

Mass Murders, Gun-free Zones Tally

Mass murder is the act of murdering a number of people, typically simultaneously or over a relatively short period of time and in close geographic proximity. The FBI defines mass murder as murdering four or more persons during an event with no "cooling-off period" between the murders.
