BACKGROUND:

The Youth Development Division (YDD) is a division within the Oregon Department of Education that provides services to school-age children and youths up to 24 years of age to support educational success, focus on crime prevention, and reduce high-risk behaviors. According to YDD, 17,506 Oregon youths ages 16 to 21 do not have a high school diploma or GED and are not enrolled in school. Senate Bill 264 appropriates $1,000,000 from the General Fund to YDD for grants to community-based youth development programs.
