Dear Joint Committee on Student success,

When I was a student (just after the ice age) all public school students had music, art, physical education, as well as being able to participate in theater & take vocational ed.

When I had difficulties in class (I had Attention Deficit Disorder before it was named), I was able to see the school psychologist.

From what I've been hearing & reading, many of these resources are no longer part of public education except in wealthy suburbs.

This is inexcusable, a deprivation that Oregon never should have imposed on our children.

Please JUMP at the opportunity to provide $2 billion to our children and our future.

Sincerely,
Bill Michtom
