

The impact of Ophelia's Place Full School Partnerships on students and school culture

Self-esteem

Students in intervention schools had significantly higher self-esteem compared to control schools in the third year of intervention.

Peer Victimization

Students in intervention schools had less of an increase of peer victimization over time.

Social Supports

Students in intervention schools had high levels of perceived social support compared to control schools in the final year of intervention.