ISSUES DISCUSSED:

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

Under current law, Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) cannot pass on credit card surcharge fees associated with sales transactions to the customer. Other agencies, such as the Oregon Department of Transportation, the Department of Justice, and the Department of Revenue, may add a surcharge to a total amount to offset fees. ORS 497.022 allows agents to retain $1 "for any other license, tag, or permit as may be specified by contract," $2.50 for each resident license, and $7.50 for each nonresident license. House Bill 2070-A would authorize ODFW to accept payment by credit card, establish a fee to offset costs of credit card transactions, and allow contracted agents to retain a portion of fees for other provided services.

In 2001, the Oregon Legislative Assembly enacted House Bill 3099, which directed the Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission to adopt a system for renewing licenses through both the mail and the World Wide Web. House Bill 2070-A would allow but not require ODFW to use mail or the World Wide Web for the license renewal system.
