BACKGROUND:

The U nonimmigrant visa (U visa) is set aside for victims of certain crimes who have suffered mental or physical abuse and are helpful to law enforcement or government officials in the investigation or prosecution of criminal activity. Congress created the U visa with the passage of the Victims of Trafficking and Violence Protection Act in October 2000. The Act was intended to strengthen the ability of law enforcement agencies to investigate and prosecute cases of domestic violence, sexual assault, trafficking of aliens, and other crimes while also protecting victims of crimes who have suffered substantial mental or physical abuse due to the crime and are willing to help law enforcement authorities in the investigation or prosecution of the criminal activity.

Senate Bill 962 A codifies procedural requirements for certifications of U visas and provides uniform data collection requirements and centralized analysis to ensure equitable distribution of U visa certifications.
