

Every vote in every state should matter in presidential elections

I strongly support electing the president by national popular vote, and once again, I'm asking you to do the same.

It's time to reform the election system for president so that our votes here in Oregon would matter. All the attention now goes to about 8 or 9 swing states. The President should be elected in the same way as we fill our other offices, and the winner should be the person who receives the most votes.

Since the House has consistently passed a national popular vote bill in previous sessions, and the Senate has finally voted on and approved a national popular vote bill (SB870), I want to thank you for support you've provided in the past, and encourage you to support this bill.

Respectfully yours,
