I just want you to know I am against the popular vote winning. Really do not want CA & NY determining every single President. I would like to see electoral votes on a state level too. Not fair the heavy populated portions dictate how the rest of us live. We are a Republic democracy. Trudy Langston

An end result, imagined clearly and acted upon with expectation will always force the circumstances necessary to bring about its own manifestation, no matter how unpredictable, unlikely, or even impossible those circumstances may have previously seemed.

Like clockwork, The Universe