EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

The senior and disabled homestead property tax deferral program allows qualified senior or disabled individuals to borrow from the State of Oregon to pay their property taxes. If an individual qualifies for the program, the Oregon Department of Revenue pays the individual's county assessed property taxes on November 15 of each year. A lien is then placed on the property and DOR becomes a security interest holder. Upon disqualification or cancellation from the program, the deferred tax, interest, and fees must be repaid in full before the lien or security interest on the property is released.
