Subject: I want to live in a fourplex

My student loans ate up what could have been a down payment for a home in my neighborhood. While I was paying them off housing costs have only increased. Now all the houses are completely out of my budget. The only way I imagine that I can afford owning property is by adding ADUs or splitting a house into multiple units. That would be really lovely since then I could live with friends, and my parents could retire with me. They live in rural Maine, and cant afford anything here either.
