No on HB 2270

- A new $2.00 tax on cigarettes could increase Oregon's black market cigarette sales from 10% to 39% according to the Mackinac Center. Oregon loses both customers and tax revenue.
- Raising taxes on vaping products makes it more difficult for smokers who use vaping products to quit smoking. Vaping products have been one of the more effective ways to reduce smoking.
- Cigar sales in Oregon are already losing tax revenue to online sales where they are cheaper and often do not pay the tax. Raising cigar taxes means losing Oregon tax revenue to outside online sales without reducing cigar use.
