

To Whom it May Concern,

Stops-as-yields are very important to cyclists. It's proven to be safer and it helps encourage more bicycling participation: this reduces pollution, increases individual health, and is one of many solutions needed for climate change.

Thank you,

Phaedra Booth