BACKGROUND:

The Future Farmers of America (FFA) was founded nationally by a group of young farmers in 1928. It exists in all 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands with 8,630 chapters. Students in the FFA participate in development opportunities that encourage leadership, professional growth and career success through agricultural education. Prior to 2011, the State of Oregon funded the Oregon chapter of FFA through the Department of Education (ODE). The privately funded FFA Foundation became a primary source of funding.

House Bill 2444-A requires ODE to coordinate with FFA to increase student achievement and improve graduation rates, college preparation, and career placement for students enrolled in secondary agricultural courses in a number of ways: it requires students in grades 9-12 to be enrolled in national FFA if they are enrolled in agricultural education programs; it provides funding for ODE and FFA to coordinate competitive events, conventions, and participation in the Oregon State Fair; and it establishes a grant program for personnel to manage agricultural programs during the summer months. It appropriates $1,430,000 General Fund dollars for coordination purposes and $600,000 for the grant program.
