BACKGROUND:

Oregon has one of the highest rates of domestic and sexual violence in the nation, with approximately 1 million women and girls affected in their lifetime. Oregon Women's Foundation Count Her In Report, 2016. At least one in six men in Oregon experience sexual violence. Prevention programs promote healthy relationships, teach bystander intervention skills, and promote change in social norms and the prevention of sexual harassment, sexual assault, and dating and interpersonal violence. In the Oregon Student Violence Report, 42 percent of students report believing there is not an atmosphere of trust and respect at school. Youth who experience dating or sexual violence have higher rates of suicidal thoughts and other health consequences such as anxiety and depression, difficulty concentrating, and a loss of hope.

House Bill 2657 A creates a funding program dedicated to comprehensive violence prevention education.
