A BILL FOR AN ACT

Relating to career and technical student organizations; and declaring an emergency.

Whereas school-based entrepreneurship, marketing, finance, hospitality, management, business, family and consumer sciences, natural resources, health sciences, human resources, technology, innovation, design, engineering, teaching and skilled labor education is built upon the three core integral tenets of classroom and laboratory learning, student leadership through career and technical student organizations and experiential learning through supervised entrepreneurship, marketing, finance, hospitality, management, business, family and consumer sciences, natural resources, health sciences, human resources, technology, innovation, design, engineering, teaching and skilled labor experience; and

Whereas to sustain and expand the influence of entrepreneurship, marketing, finance, hospitality, management, business, family and consumer sciences, natural resources, health sciences, human resources, technology, innovation, design, engineering, teaching and skilled labor education in this state, Oregon is best served by systematically investing in all three core integral tenets; and

Whereas career and technical student organizations in this state that receive direct foundation support provide the student leadership component to an integrated entrepreneurship, marketing, finance, hospitality, management, business, family and consumer sciences, natural resources, health sciences, human resources, technology, innovation, design, engineering, teaching and skilled labor education model, including organizing leadership development conferences, providing in-class presentations, coordinating career development events, facilitating scholarship funds and managing award programs; and

Whereas career and technical student organizations in this state that receive direct foundation support connect real-world applications to classroom learning, provide unequaled leadership training opportunities and leverage industry support and engagement; and

Whereas entrepreneurship, marketing, finance, hospitality, management, business, family and consumer sciences, natural resources, health sciences, human resources, technology, innovation, design, engineering, teaching and skilled labor programs are year-round programs that provide guidance, supervision, training and advising to students beyond the school year as they engage in real-world experiential learning projects; and
