

I want to urge you to kill HB4005. Punishing the victim of a theft, while ignoring the thief, is criminal on the part of whoever passes such legislation. This is insanity. Trying to regulate what people do with their own property in their own home is ludicrous. Rather than waste time on this horrible draconian nonsense, I would encourage you to work on fixing PERS.

Garrett Bruno

Sent from my iPhone