

Enough is enough. People who go out to kill wild animals for FUN! mn That is so sick!@

If other states can ban killing contests so can Oregon. The vet majority of the public is more than fed up with ranchers who do nothing to protect their livestock then expect the public to pay them for anything that dies — and cattle and sheep do die of causes other than predation.

Ranchers need to be with their cattle or sheep and when they do that they stop the predation, making it needless killing of coyotes. If you killed all the coyotes you would be overrun with rats, rabbits, mice and all other creatures coyotes keep in check.
