

Please do not change the existing rules for quorum requirements. You are contributing to increased distrust of the government. This will follow along the lines of your rule changes for getting an initiative on the ballot. You made it harder so citizens can not engage in the political process. You are disenfranchising the voters.

Instead of spending time on trying to fix the quorum rules to favor Democrats why don't you put the Cap and Trade on the ballot and let the voters decide?
