

Vote NO on SJR201

There is a reason that no one political party should have too much power. We need checks and balances. SJR201 seems to be a knee jerk reaction to the Democratic party being unable to ramrod a political agenda through, without turning it over to a vote of the people. Changing Oregon's constitution without allowing the people a voice, especially because this is an obvious maneuver to enable a single party political agenda, will come back to bite its master. In case you are locked in an echo chamber, listening to your own voices, you are missing the growing discontent of the people, and this may be instrumental in overthrowing this arrogant super majority. Pass SJR201 at your own peril, because one day you will be on the other side of this. Don't be short-sighted. Look for the unintended consequences.
