Please vote yes to repeal license suspension due to failure to pay fines. It punishes the most vulnerable in our society, and removes a vital tool to move around in society, as well as the ability to go to work.

May I suggest what has been done in Canada? Fines do not result in suspensions or warrants for arrest, instead, the fines need to be paid BEFORE any kind of DMV services are rendered, including renewing your license or registration. This has resulted in fines being collected peacefully and without punishment. People gladly pay these fines at the time that they need to access DMV services. There is a small surcharge to enable DMV to be the collector of these fines.
