

sage:

Hello, my name is Veronica and I am writing in support of urgently important bills up for review.

It saddens my heart there has been so much violence in our community and across the nation. The matter of unnecessary police brutality is nothing new, but with the internet and new generations coming of age we cannot stand quietly any longer. All color skinned people are just that PEOPLE, and we owe it to each other to stand up for justice and to protect each other. Black, brown, and indiginice poc lives are disproportionately affected by police violence and this needs urgent attention. Now. The time is now, it is time to stand on the right side of history. To be the people who end injustice.

Please vote yes on these important bills. We as a community urge you to fight for justice, and to help restore peace in the process. "No Justice, No Peace."
