

I'm a 74 year old Vietnam veteran, retired my main source of income is from the rentals I worked hard to get and now maintain. I'm paying taxes, insurance, utilities and up keep on rental that people have been living in for free for months and anyone who thinks those people are going to be able to pay the back rent (well I've got some property I'd like to sell you) . I feel sorry for the people who can't pay rent because they lost their job because of the virus, but I don't think I should be the only one paying. Maybe we should all be helping. Maybe they should have to prove they lost their job, maybe they should have to apply for help to agencies that might help them, and not just stop paying rent.

Thanks
