31 (2)(a) If a restaurant that uses a third-party food platform to facilitate orders of food and 32 beverages for sale to consumers includes with an order the option of delivery of the order 33 by the third-party food platform, the third-party food platform may not charge the restau-
 34 rant total fees in excess of 15 percent of the purchase price of the order for use of the 35 third-party food platform’s services.

36 (b) If a restaurant described in paragraph (a) of this subsection does not offer the option 37 of delivery of the order by the third-party food platform, the third-party food platform may 38 not charge the restaurant total fees in excess of five percent of the purchase price of the 39 order for the use of the third-party food platform’s services.

40 (c) A third-party food platform may not reduce the rate of compensation paid to, or 41 garnish the gratuities of, an individual who makes deliveries of orders to consumers on be-42 half of the third-party food platform as a result of the requirements of this subsection.

43 (3) An individual who makes deliveries of orders to consumers on behalf of a third-party 44 food platform may bring an action against the third-party food platform for a violation of 45 subsection (2)(c) of this section and may recover damages in the amount of $500 for each

1 violation.

2 (4) Subsection (2) of this section does not apply to a restaurant located in an area subject
3 to the jurisdiction of a local governing body that, on or before December 18, 2020, adopted 4 an ordinance limiting the fees described in subsection (2) of this section.

5 SECTION 4. A third-party food platform, as defined in section 3 of this 2020 third special
6 session Act, shall meet the requirements established in section 3 (2) of this 2020 third special
7 session Act not later than seven days after the effective date specified in section 6 of this 8 2020 third special session Act.

9 SECTION 5. Sections 2 to 4 of this 2020 third special session Act are repealed 60 days
10 after the date on which the declaration of a state of emergency issued by the Governor on 11 March 8, 2020, and any extension of the declaration, is no longer in effect.
