

To Whom it May Concern,

I am writing about the redistricting process in Oregon. Oregon is out of balance with the current supermajority in Salem. This does not lend itself to discussion of the issues and working across the aisle for the best outcomes for Oregonians.

The districts should be fair, not one sided to one political party or another with equal strength being placed on rural and urban areas using requirements set forth in law to avoid gerrymandering.

The City of Portland should not be able to dominate the Oregon House of representatives this urban lens does not fit the needs of all of Oregon and disenfranchises those living out side of the city. Cities and counties should be kept whole to make sure to preserve communities with common interests in those areas are heard.

Thank You
