

Good afternoon. If radiofrequency radiation exposure is safe, then why did the Oregon Health Authority go through so much trouble to withhold the first draft of the report (which cited research showing biological harm) from the public?

Brian Dobbs