

Bridges were originally designed for both the Fraser River and the Fehmarn Baltic Sea crossing. However, after a second analysis by international immersed tunnel engineers, tunnels are now being built.

