

Hello,

I would like to submit this comment for the ReBuild Task Force meeting tomorrow at 3pm.

Natural gas is essential to tackling climate change, leading the way in net GHG reductions and will continue to do so by replacing dirty fuels around the world and recycling methane into renewable natural gas. It is an important part of our decarbonization solutions. It has helped our state lower emissions while more clean energy technology, such as renewable natural gas and hydrogen, come online and can be delivered through those same infrastructure that we already have in place.

Thank you for your time.
