

My husband and I have underlying conditions. We are the grandparents raising two teens. While I do like the hybrid program our kids are in and I think it could work, if it doesn't, my husband and I will probably die and leave them orphaned.

Now we have mutations of the virus, even more easily contracted and deadly. Opening schools is an unconscionable action of aggression against people with underlying conditions or older generations. You in effect are saying you don't care if children lose their elders.

Get the vaccine rolled out and then start school.

Please don't be sociopathic.

Thank you.

Brenda Brown