BACKGROUND:

The Oregon Department of Agriculture (ODA) is the lead agency for supporting and responding to animal care and sheltering needs during an emergency, as articulated in the Oregon Statewide Emergency Operations Plan. During emergencies, ODA can activate the Oregon Veterinary Emergency Response Team (OVERT), a volunteer cadre of veterinarians and technicians which can be mobilized to perform work on behalf of ODA. ODA can also deputize veterinarians, who then can perform work on behalf of ODA and the state. The current law does not authorize ODA to deputize veterinarian technicians to support and assist the OVERT veterinarians.

House Bill 2033 would authorize the Oregon Department of Agriculture to deputize veterinary technicians to assist the department in carrying out its duties.
