Hello. I lost my home in the Alameda fire. What I need most is expedited cleanup, so that I can rebuild. Rebuilding also requires approval of building plans, which is proceeding so very very slowly. It is awkward not knowing when the cleanup and approval of building plans will happen, as building contractors are in limbo as to how to schedule projects. I have a contractor lined up, but how long can he wait? All the uncertainty makes the process very difficult.

Thank you,
