Summary of Fiscal Impact:

Costs related to the measure may require budgetary action - See analysis.

Analysis:

HB 2928 with the -3 amendment, which replaces the measure, regulates and limits the use of chemical incapacitants, kinetic impact projectiles, strobe lights, and sound devices by law enforcement for the purpose of crowd control. The measure requires that certain accommodations and instructions be made by law enforcement when deploying specified devices. Further, the measure prohibits law enforcement from acting in concert with another agency or proxy law enforcement to engage in conduct barred by statute or court order and establishes that an intentional violation of this provision constitutes official misconduct in the second degree. The measure takes effect upon passage.

Oregon State Police

OSP anticipates that it will need to add one Sergeant position (1.00 FTE) to handle the training and coordination of the new crowd control guidelines. In order to comply with the prohibition of strobe lights for crowd control, OSP may need to make changes to the light bars on their vehicles, at an estimated total cost of $945,000. Additionally, the measure specifies that whenever possible law enforcement must make announcements for the purpose of crowd control. As a result, the agency believes it will need to purchase three public announcement systems at a total cost of $150,000. The total estimated cost for this measure for OSP is $1,550,781 General Fund in the 2021-23 biennium, dropping to $371,781 General Fund in the 2023-25 biennium as some equipment costs and capital outlay are a one-time cost. In addition, it is unlikely that the position will be hired on July 1, 2021, so the total amount needed for personal services costs in 2021-23 may be able to be reduced.

Oregon Judicial Department

OJD anticipates a minimal fiscal impact as it may result in an increase in persons charged with the crime of official misconduct in the second degree and additional cases filed in circuit court.

Other Agencies

Cities, counties, and public universities report an indeterminate fiscal impact from this measure. In addition, it does not have a fiscal impact on Department of Public Safety Standards and Training, the Higher Education Coordinating Commission, or the Department of Corrections.

This measure warrants a subsequent referral to the Joint Committee on Ways and Means for consideration of its budgetary impact on the State's General Fund.
