No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

Under certain conditions, property owned by certain charitable organizations and scientific institutions is exempt from property tax. Historically, organizations claimed such tax exemptions to pursue solely charitable purposes, such as operating an animal shelter. The organization must file an application with the county assessor. In 2014, HB 4039 clarified that low income housing owned by a non-profit would also be eligible for this exemption. This particular use of the non-profit tax exemption originally sunset in 2018, was extended, and now is set to expire July 1 2022.
