OPEN GOVERNMENT IMPACT

Legislative Counsel has not adopted standards for drafting measures that establish exemptions from disclosure of public records.

This measure extends the exemption from public disclosure of information that could be used to identify an elector whose ballot has been challenged from seven days to 14 days after the date of the election.

If those public records that could be subject to public disclosure were instead subject to mandatory disclosure under public records law, the public could receive information that could be used to identify an elector whose ballot has been challenged immediately after the election.
