

I am an avid rider and former resident of California. Having experienced commuting by motorcycle with different lane sharing laws, I can say without hesitation, lane sharing does not only improve traffic flow, it raises the riders level of defense awareness.