

I grew up in Portland. Portland has 10 times as much traffic as it did 10 years ago. I feel like a sitting duck in traffic on a motorcycle. I see car wrecks on a daily basis. I wanna get through traffic safely on my motorcycle without giving any drivers a chance to rear end me or run into me in any way. My whole goal while riding a motorcycle is defense, I'm trying to avoid every bad driver out there. Every driver texting, or taking Uber directions starring at their phone. Avoiding traffic situations safely and quickly will save motorcycle lives. Thank you.
