

We have an apartment building. Everyone is paying their rent except one family. They earn the most of anyone and they have their jobs. They are not paying rent because they don't have to. Instead they bought a new car. Thanks, Oregon.