

As a career Criminal Justice Professional I am confidently that this bill goes too far into denying individuals their Second Amendment rights. Citizens should not be denied their rights simply because the Government put a road block in their way and then fails to do their job of clearing the obstacle it created. This indefinite denial of rights will not pass a legal constitutional challenge and will further increase the distrust of government.

Larry Daniels
Retired Administrator
Oregon Corrections Center