

I support the opening of venues for all communities of Oregon to participate in a cultural symbol that really represent the wide variety of current communities in the state, and that will reflect the further diversity within our Oregon communities.

It's important we all form cultural symbols that are welcoming and create a sense of belonging for all.