

It's important for students to be able to express their cultural identity, if they wish. This will uphold tribal sovereignty and reinforce positive student tribal identities. As a country that has taken so much from Native Americans, we must recognize their culture and heritage, and allow them to express it as they desire.