

I oppose this bill. There are already many laws on the books that cover many of these situations. Also it looks like it is looking for a problem. The stats show only 1 time in Oregon where this was a problem but then attempts to use National statistics to bolster their claim of the problem. There is no evidence there is a problem in Oregon and this law just is another attempt to control law abiding gun owners.