

Reparations means an acknowledgment of harm done and an effort to do right. We have a chance to do better by those this country has abused and underserved. If we don't take steps to being a true healing process, we are doomed as a society.