

I am writing in support of SB513 supporting civics education in Oregon schools. Our populace is woefully uneducated on how government works. Research shows that students who receive effective civics classes are more likely to be engaged citizens throughout their entire lives. Informed citizens know how to ask tough questions of their public officials, which leads to accountability. Informed citizens add to the strength of our democracy.