

The river needs to remain open to boats and wake activities. Our city has been restricted enough during the last year. We cannot strip Portland of anything more. Especially something like this that promotes being active and outside.