

My name is Ben Burk and I'm a senior at Lakeridge High School. The science suggests that 16-year-olds and 17-year-olds are just as politically active and informed as adults. Students know better than anyone what happens within their schools and what changes need to be made, having a say in what happens would greatly improve the quality of their education and their school environment.