

I believe private schools should remain independent of the public school system in regard to hiring and curriculum without losing the ability to participate in public events.