

It is imperative that the system begins to correct all the consequences of our racial history. Just looking at all the disparities makes it seem impossible to reach another conclusion.
It is time to step up and do the right thing for our neighbors and our country.