

The current property tax system is not sustainable. It discourages improvement and densification. As a homeowner I welcome new initiatives to make the property tax system more sustainable.