

It is not the (official) job of citizens at large to study the laws related to clean energy - but, the Public Utility Commission? Yes, I think so. And providing results of their diligent study to Legislative Assembly committees in a timely manner makes sense as well. This planet and its creatures are approaching a tipping point. Both diligence and fast action are needed. Please approve this study and take seriously its conclusions. Time really is of the essence.

Thank you,
Ellen Patterson
Corvallis, OR