

These predator-killing contests are barbaric and sociopathic. There is NO moral justification for them to be held. They reduce participants to their most base instincts.

Predator-killing contests have no place in society and must be outlawed without delay.