

Salem Cinema has been a positive community gathering spot. As an individual who lives in the Broadway neighborhood, the impact of the movie theater has created a wonderful spot of connection for people of the community across ages. The stories through film that are shared at Salem Cinema have continued to provoke thought and intention in my life. I attended my first movie at Salem Cinema this week for the first time in over a year, and I sat in the seat with my husband with a huge smile on my face. Regardless of at home movie entertainment, nothing will compare to the big screen of independent movie theaters like Salem Cinema.
